

Madame Curie

This is a very rare picture of Madame Curie taken in her laboratory in Paris, France around 1905. As you all know Madame Curie and her husband discovered and purified the element, Radium.

We have always been impressed by the appearance of Madame Curie in the various pictures of her which we have seen. You will note how kindly her face is, how smooth her skin, how intent her expression. How intelligent she looks, but still, how grave and thoughtful, and one can even say how commanding her personality seems to be.

There can be no questioning that she and her husband were the world's greatest husband and wife scientific team.
